

GOD MUST BE PUTTING THINGS IN ORDER

In the midst of this crisis and chaos, I was wondering if God is actually setting things right. He is allowing all these so the world can be shaken and sifted, then things will settle and be clearer. I wonder if He is resetting some things.

Imagine, citizens are made to see clearly how their elected officials are responding to the crisis, selfishly or compassionately. Citizens will witness the real heroes who are on the frontlines battling this "enemy" to save lives. And they will see those who are just grandstanding and doing the blame game. Citizens will see.

Religious activities are being adjusted, challenging everyone to be more personal and purposeful in their pursuit of God. From automatic going to church, people need to look for online mass. There will be a hunger for sacramental communion beyond spiritual communion after this. The clergy are being called to go out to the community to care for the sick and needy. They are called to private masses where there are no more audiences but God himself. The Lenten season will become more personal, interior and spiritual, not just religious.

Families will be able to spend more time together from 8pm to 5am because of the curfew. Now, it's up to the parents if they will choose to connect online with people outside their homes or really connect with their families in front of them offline. Commuters do not need to wake up at 3am to catch the 8am time in or stay in the office late. This means again more time with families. Families will learn to talk to one another again.

Friends, God is probably asking us to stop for a while. We have scurried to and fro for a long time and we must have been missing something. God is forcing us to stop and be mindful of what He is doing.

So what is He doing in your life? Is he asking you to finally do something you have been delaying? Is he asking you to rest? Do you know your kids' favorite stuff? Do you understand what someone is saying when he/she is mentioning CLOY?

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN He is probably setting some things right in your life. 😊🙏

(You may share the post even without permission. God bless us all as we listen to Him.)

Someone sent me this one from the Philippines.

I believe God is recreating the world!